

FORMOSA

Formosa bed is intended to enrich the living experience around the bed by integrating a bed unit and bedside cabinet. Thanks to the legs support, the bed literally floats and divide out a “comfort zone” in the room. It has great flexibility to be placed either centrally or against a wall, in order to meet different contexts.

The bed is designed with the simplicity, lightness and modern language. The headboard has a soft pillow shape silhouette to give the perception of comfortableness. It's embraced by the wooden bedside cabinet and two leather covered shells to give the idea of whole. The shells have stripe cushion pattern that coherent to the headboard.

The material and texture composition of walnut wood and Nabuk leather highlights the Elite's expertise and its craftsmanship, as well as accentuates the finely honed details and quality. As the result, all the features of Formosa bed make it a haute furniture that can be easily used in the modern interior context.
